Dr. Abdullah Noman
Academic Committee Member

Dr. Abdullah Noman, PhD, CFP® is an associate professor of finance in the Thomas School of Business at University of North Carolina at Pembroke. Previously, he worked at Buena Vista University in Iowa as an associate professor and at Nicholls State University in Louisiana as an assistant professor. He is a Certified Financial Planner (CFP®) as well as a Certified Personal Finance Counselor (CPFC). He passed the Security Industry Essentials (SEI) and Series 65 exams administered by the Financial Regulatory Authority (FINRA).

Dr. Noman's research interests include behavioral and personal finance, socially responsible investing and asset pricing, He has published in several academic journals and presented his papers at many academic conferences. Besides over a decade of teaching experience, Dr. Noman has experience in Pro Bono financial advising. He is a financial helpline volunteer with the Savvy Ladies, a non-profit organization. He is a co-founder of Purity Financial Education and Planning, a non-profit organization whose motto is Social Integration through Financial Wellbeing. Dr. Noman studied Islamic Economics and Finance at International Islamic University, Islamabad in Pakistan and at Markfield Institute of Higher Education in UK.

About NACIF

The purpose of the North American Conference on Islamic Finance (NACIF) is to foster the sharing of global knowledge. It is an international forum for Islamic finance scholars and practitioners to discuss and collaborate on the various innovative practices that are being used in the Islamic finance industry. Ultimately, the goal of NACIF is to facilitate sustainable finance practices that benefit society at all levels.

Quick Links

About
Speakers
Committees
Agenda
Accommodation
Registration
FAQ

Main Office

P.O. Box 339

Barker, TX 77413-0339

Contact Information

(832) 517-2988

Email -

nacif@guidancecollege.org